Dear Parents/Carers,

This Week in Butterflies and Caterpillars

The children have listened to another traditional tale; Little Red Riding Hood. They have been thinking about building a new house for the wolf and have used puppets and masks to re tell the story. Some of the children have visited the farm again and have been learning about caring for the animals. The changes in the weather have prompted lots of talk about the weather and what we need to wear for different weather. We have talked about Easter and different ways of celebrating it. You can support your child by talking about different celebrations they will remember. We have planted some plants donated by a parent in our planters.

This Week in Tiny Eggs

The children in Tiny Eggs have been looking at daffodils and using green and yellow paint to paint them. We have had an Easter Egg hunt and been talking about Easter. We would still like family photos for our family board from anyone who hasn't yet given us one. Please send in wellies for your children if they have any and we would be very grateful for donations of wellies your child has outgrown.

After the Holiday

After the holiday we will be looking at signs of spring and talking about new life and growing. We will be planting more plants in our planters. If anyone would like to donate child friendly plants we can plant with the children we would be very grateful. We would love that area of our garden to be full of scent and colour and for the children to experience. We also hope they will be able to experience growing, harvesting and eating their own fruit and vegetables.

We hope you have a very good break and look forward to seeing you all after Easter.

Thank you all for your continued support.
